

The mannor of Liddington ^{Court of the} ~~At~~ the right Honorable John Earle of Exeter, then & holden the ffower & Twentieth Day of with Daldecott April In the year of our Lord Christ according to the Statute now used in England 1532. The the Steward there is Jurroled as followeth ~~At~~ this Court Edward no at or feild hath surrendred into the hands of the Lord by the hands of James no inter one of the Sermons of this Mannor churche with the parson in Liddington & the sole behooft of him the sayd Edward for & during the tennure of his naturall life and after his decease to the sole behooft of Edward no at or feild his Sonne & Elizabeth his wife and to the heires and assignes of the sayd Edward no at or feild the Sonne for ever &c whom the Lord by his Steward hath therof granted to us in to have and to hold the same to the use aforesaid all the will of the Lord according to the Custome of this Mannor & rendering therefore to the Lord yearly by the Court & other exercises therof due & accustomed by which the Lord assignes for their Admittance as appears in the Margins have made fealtie & are admitted ent.

Examined by mee Jho. Gostelow