

February, 1947.

- A. Snow at top of Rockingham Hill. This picture was taken by someone standing on the post and rail fence on top of one hedge looking across the Rockingham/Corby Road to the other hedge, which shows that the road is practically full of snow to the top of the hedges.
- B. From this the depth of snow can also be appreciated. It shows where a rough attempt has been made to dig a way through for pedestrians and cyclists.
- C. A mountain of drift in one of the fields.
